U.S. Government Obligations Information

In most states, fund dividends derived from U.S. government obligations are generally exempt from state income taxes. The percentage shown below is the portion of the dividend income paid by certain funds that qualifies for this exemption. To calculate the amount of income earned from U.S. government obligations, multiply the percentage by the ordinary dividends you received from the fund during the 2024 calendar year, reported in Box 1a of Form 1099-DIV. Shareholders in CA, CT and NY should note that only the funds denoted with an asterisk (*) meet the minimum investment requirements of these states to permit the “pass-through” of exempt income. Funds not shown had 0% dividend income derived from U.S. government obligations.

Percentage of Income Earned by State and U.S. Territory

Most states do not impose income tax on interest income derived from their own municipal obligations or those issued by U.S. territories. The following table shows the percentage of income paid by each fund on a state-by-state basis. To calculate the amount of income attributable to a particular state or territory, you should multiply Form 1099-DIV Box 12 total tax-exempt income you received in 2024 from a particular fund by the appropriate percentage below. Shareholders who are residents of CA and MN should note that investment thresholds and income limitations may prevent the “pass-through” of state-exempt income.

Percentage of Income Subject to the Federal Alternative Minimum Tax (AMT)

Depending on your individual tax situation, you may be required to file IRS Form 6251, Alternative Minimum Tax—Individuals. Please refer to Box 13 on your Form 1099-DIV from Charles Schwab & Co., Inc. for the amount of tax-exempt interest dividends you earned that should be included on IRS Form 6251, if any. For more information about national and state-specific money funds and bond funds, please visit schwabassetmanagement.com.

Note: Capital gains from municipal (“tax-free”, “tax-exempt”) securities are not exempt from Federal taxation.

Investors should consider carefully information contained in the prospectus, or if available, the summary prospectus, including investment objectives, risks, charges and expenses. You can obtain a prospectus, or if available, a summary prospectus by visiting schwabassetmanagement.com/prospectus. Please read it carefully before investing.

You could lose money by investing in the Schwab Money Funds. All Schwab Money Funds seek to preserve the value of your investment at $1.00 per share, but cannot guarantee they will do so. All Schwab Money Funds with the exception of Schwab Government Money Fund, Schwab Retirement Government Money Fund, Schwab U.S. Treasury Money Fund, Schwab Treasury Obligations Money Fund and Schwab Government Money Market Portfolio may impose a fee upon the sale of your shares if the Fund's board or its delegate determines that the fee is in the best interests of the Fund. An investment in the Schwab Money Funds is not insured or guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or any other government agency. The Schwab Money Funds' sponsor has no legal obligation to provide financial support to the Funds, and you should not expect that the sponsor will provide financial support to the Funds at any time.

Investment returns will fluctuate and are subject to market volatility, so that an investor's shares, when redeemed or sold, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Shares of ETFs are not individually redeemable directly with the ETF. Shares are bought and sold at market price, which may be higher or lower than the net asset value (NAV).

For advice on your particular tax situation, or for more information on the taxes covered in this supplement, please consult a professional tax advisor, the Internal Revenue Service or your state tax authority.
